

Chat Transcript – ALCTS Exchange 2017 |

How to Eat an Elephant: Processing a Massive Gift Collection with a Streamline Workflow

Vicki Sipe []: Work flow chart reads well in full frame view of slides

Sarah Becker [Arlington, MA]: Can patrons Penn look at materials?

dezelar@umn.edu []: Did you get special funding for the project staff or reallocate from your budget?

Stephanie Lamson [University of Washington, Seattle]: What percentage of the overall collection did you add?

Karla Strieb: Interested in processing right into storage trays. How did you come up with that.

Sarah Becker [Arlington, MA]: Sorry--patrons outside Penn

Amanda Stone: How do you assess who plays the role of curator?

Stephanie Lamson [University of Washington, Seattle]: How was this prioritized with the overall cataloging of the department?

Barbra Rempe [Omaha]: Did you use bookplates or attribute the items in any way to Gotham?

Sarah Becker [Arlington, MA]: Thanks!

kkdavis@umn.edu []: did most of the items have ISBNs or other standard identifiers that made processing faster/easier?

Vicki Sipe []: Great pre-session materials thanks!!!